Presenter Bio: Kris Quinones is a wellness & massage educator, licensed muscular therapist, Kripalu certified Ayurvedic Health Counselor and 500-hr Ayurvedic Yoga Specialist, with over 25 years of professional experience in orthopedics, competitive sports, and natural healing. In 2014 she founded Rasayana, LLC originally in Somerville, MA and now operates out of Colorado Springs, CO where she teaches empowering strategies for natural pain relief, body mobility, and injury recovery using an integrative approach with the ancient systems of Ayurveda, Yoga, and Massage, and her former orthopedics & competitive sports background.

Through transformational on-line programs, professional CEU trainings, personalized coaching sessions, and powerful custom bodywork treatments, she helps change the narrative on the aging process with compassionate candor and a little panache along the way. [www.rasayana.com]

Learning Objectives/Description: In this ayurvedic bodywork training you will learn the powerful lymphatic massage treatments of garshan and abhyanga. Foundations in Ayurvedic theory, these treatments' purpose, and appropriate modifications informed by anatomy and physiology will be covered.

Garshan is a dry brushing of the body using raw silk gloves, exfoliating the skin and stimulating arterial and lymphatic drainage. Known as an ideal preparation for abhyanga.

Abhyanga is a full body, rhythmic, detox & rejuvenation massage using warmed herbal oils specific to the client's constitution or imbalances. It is the hallmark of Ayurvedic massage. A single therapist treatment is taught.
